THE TAILOR MADE ITALIAN EXPERIENCE

Regioni d'Italia: Emilia Romagna

Emilia Romagna is located in Northern Italy, between the Apennines of Liguria and Tuscany and the left bank of the Po river. The region borders the Adriatic sea to the East, Piemonte and Liguria to the West, and Tuscany, Marche and the Republic of San Marino to the South.

Emilia Romagna's main city is Bologna.

The region has a population of 4 million inhabitants and a population density of 181 inhabitants per square kilometer.

Emilia Romagna is composed of two sub regions— Emilia, located in the north, and Romagna, comprised of the Po delta, between Bologna and Rimini. Emilia Romagna offers such diverse features as the Adriatic coast, the Padana plain and the Apennine mountains. Almost half of the territory is covered by plains; the rest of the territory is formed by hills and mountains.

Emilia Romagna, things to do

With the sea, mountains, thermal baths, nature and cuisine, Emilia Romagna has it all. Visitors to the region can fuse culture, fun, relaxation and the discovery of ancient traditions.

From architectural and cultural perspective, Emilia Romagna stands out as an exceptionally interesting region. The area is home to many cities famous for their art, cultural, and historical heritage, such as Bologna, Ravenna, Parma, Modena and Ferrara. Emilia Romagna is also a coastal region with 110 kilometres of fine sand coast, a feature that attracts thousands of tourists every year. Rimini and Riccione are two of the region's coastal cities that are famous for their tourism and night life.

Getting there

Emilia Romagna is accessible by several routes:

- By plane: the main airports are G. Marconi Airport of Bologna, L. Ridolfi Airport of Forlì, Miramare Airport of Rimini and G. Verdi Airport of Parma.
- By Train: Bologna is one of the main Italian rail junctions; most main Italian stations offer direct trains to Bologna.
- By car: the principal motorway is the A1 Milano-Piacenza-parma-Reggio-Modena-Florence-Rome road that connects with the region's main cities.

Other motorways that connect Emilia Romagna to other regions are as follows: A13 Bologna-Ferrara-Padova, A14 Bologna-Forlì- Ancona, A15 Parma-La Spezia, A22 Modena-Verona-Brennero and E45 Roma-Viterbo-Terni-Perugia-Bagno di Romagna-Cesena-Ravenna.

Our Tours
